

JEANS MUCH IN KENTUCKY

Republicans Carry the State and Both Branches of the Legislature

WILL ELECT A SUCCESSOR TO BLACKBURN

How the Vote of that Commonwealth
Has Changed During the Past Two Years—Figures on the Result

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 8.—The following statement was given out tonight at 6 o'clock from the republican headquarters: Practically all the republican vote gave a majority of 44 plurality in Kentucky, unofficial sources indicating that the four missing counties will increase rather than decrease this margin. The republicans elect four members of congress and a judge of the highest court of the state for an eight-year term, and by the filling of vacancies have secured a majority of two in the general assembly, joint ballot, which insures a republican governor to Senator Blackburn. The total vote of the state will approximate 420,000, an increase of 70,000 over the vote of 1890, and 25,000 more than the highest estimate for election. The republican vote increased about 40,000 over Governor Bradley's vote a year ago, which was 17,000 higher than the state vote in a presidential election.

and the Democratic vote was 29,000. These figures will give some idea of the intensity of the political struggle through which Kentucky has just passed. The following telegram was sent today by the chairman of the republican state campaign committee:

Hon. M. A. Hanna, Hotel Waldorf, New York: Practically complete returns show that Kentucky 50 in. K. has secured 48,000 more votes for McKinley than Governor Bradley received, but fusion and fraud almost robbed us of victory. W.

was sleeping on our arms for a week. I am now our dancer. I am SAMUEL MCKINLEY, a farm hand. CONGRATULATES M'KINLEY.

The following telegram was sent from here today:

William McKinley, Canton, O., Kentucky, for the first time in its history, is carried by the republicans in a landslide. The year-long campaign of anxious watching and waiting, the official returns today show you have carried this State by a landslide. You have carried Kentucky over Cleveland 40,000 plurality and lost 23,000 popular votes. The election is complete, and your victory means a reversal of 6,000 votes, based on the figures of the census. The election has won the thousands of patriotic democrats who have in their common sense, permit me to say, been disappointed in the result and the breaking of a time-honored record.

It is merely necessary to add my personal congratulations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The campaign of the free colliage of silver will be waged with vigor during the next four years, in preparation for the election in 1900. The directors of the American Bimetallite union, the largest of the silver leaders, of the three parties have decided to keep headquarters in this city from which to conduct literature. The branch office at Chicago will be consolidated with the Washington office, but the San Francisco office is to remain. General A. J. Warner, president of the union, has issued the following address to the United States: "Silver has lost in this battle, but the battle for the overthrow of the gold standard has not ended. The dis-

[illegible]

The victory for gold is a victory for trust, for the free market, for the free man, for undistorted wealth, brought about by free competition, free trade, free exchange, free competition and coercion, and not a victory for the people or for the people, and it cannot last. There must be an end also to the constant appreciation of money. The appreciation of money alone, if allowed to go on at the rate it has gone on for the past twenty years will in half a generation more transfer the bulk of all the wealth of this country from those who have created it to the hands of the few who control the money.

d own the debts. No power can be compared so potent to gather wealth into few hands as the ceaseless, all-pervading power of an appreciating money standard. No in-the foundations upon which free institutions rest will be broken up. The battle, therefore, for the restoration of silver must be fought on without abatement, and I urge upon all silver and bimetallic leagues and unions to keep up their organizations and to continue the fight till victory for the people is fully won. The noble fight made by our splendid leader in the campaign just ended inspires him to all who believe in the righteousness of our cause and under his leadership we believe victory will be won in 1900."

Now that the republicans are content of a majority on joint ballot they state that a republican will be elected Governor. Governor Bradley, Congressman Butler, St. John Boyle and others are
